Alive Magazine Contributor Recognition Program for Writers and Artists

*by young women,
for young women*

To reward writers and artists for their significant contributions to Alive Magazine, we offer the following levels of honors for participation. Points will be tracked by Alive Magazine staff, and levels will be noted in issues of the magazine in which the contributor is published and on the Alive Magazine Web site (www.alivemagazine.org).

How do I earn points?

Writers:

- Five points for each work (article, story, poem, etc) published in Alive Magazine
- One point for each writer, artist, or supporter you refer to Alive (they must mention your name when filling out their user ID form on www.alivemagazine.org)
- It is especially important that new contributors meet all established deadlines; if they do not, they will forfeit the chance to eventually advance to the higher levels of Junior Contributing Writer, Senior Contributing Writer and Honorary Staff Writer. Once a writer has earned Junior Contributing Writer status, one point will be deducted for each future deadline that the writer does not meet; thus, delaying her advancements.

Artists:

- Three points for each snapshot that is published as part of a narrative (designed for writers, especially in the Explore/Mend/Discover/Give columns)
- Ten points for each published article that incorporates your artwork submission (photograph, collage, painting, drawing, pastel, charcoal, digital graphic, etc.) Points will not be awarded for each individual piece in the layout, but rather for the article as a whole.
- Fifteen points for being selected as a "Gaze Artist Award" recipient
- One point for each writer, artist, or supporter you refer to Alive (they must mention your name when filling out their user ID form on www.alivemagazine.org)

Writers	Point Totals	Artists

What can points do for me?

All contributors may list their current level for resumes, transcripts, applications and the like. Senior Contributing Writers/Artists and Honorary Staff Writers/Artists may also request letters of recommendation and references from the Managing Editor or Artistic Director.

Contributors can check their point totals by emailing editorial@alivemagazine.org, and requesting their current total.

All point rewards (and point deductions for missed deadlines) are subject to discretion of Managing Editor and Executive Director.
